The OCN NI Level 3 award in Professional and Technical Media Production Practices is a fully funded upskilling programme. It aims to enable the learner to become occupationally competent in professional and technical media production practices and is aimed at learners who aspire to work professionally in film, television, visual and aftereffects.

This programme runs for one week, and participants will attend the e3 Campus in Belfast. Training will be delivered Monday to Friday from 10am – 3.30pm, where students will work towards the OCN NI Level 3 award in Professional and Technical Media Production Practices.

Students will also gain insight from key industry partners and will learn in Belfast Metropolitan College's state-of-the-art Creative Media facilities.
